

Commence Announces Release Date For Designer Edition RM Version 3.5 (Compatible with Microsoft Vista and Office 2007)

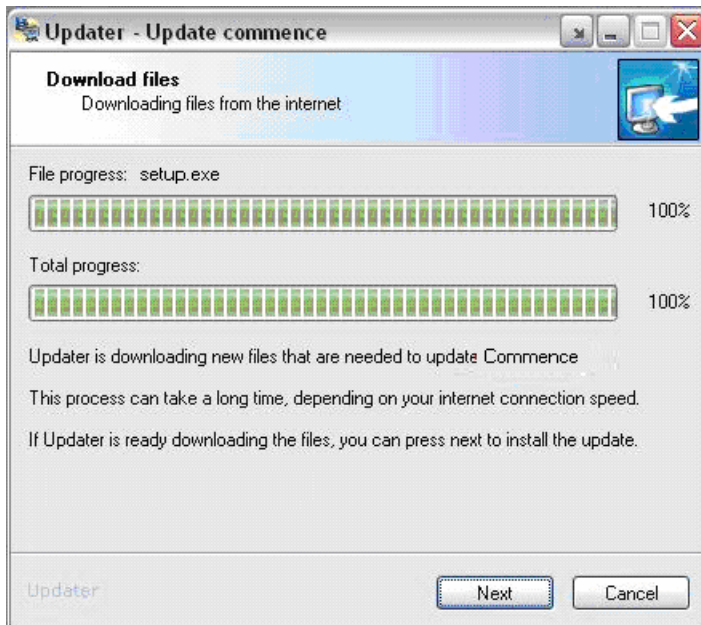

Microsoft has finally put the finishing touches on Vista, its new operating system, and Office 2007 and plans for their release are already under way. At Commence, we have worked hard to keep abreast of the enhancements incorporated in these new product offerings and to ensure that your Commence Workgroup continues to operate at peak performance with them. We know that you have come to expect this from Commence and once again we will meet your expectations.

Last month we released Commence RM Version 3.1(e) that supported security enhancements and new features incorporated in Microsoft's Internet Explorer 7.0 and by year-end we will release Commence RM Version 3.5, which is designed to support Vista and Office 2007.

While the release is primarily designed to support the new Microsoft environment, we have incorporated several enhancements that we are confident you will enjoy. They include the following.

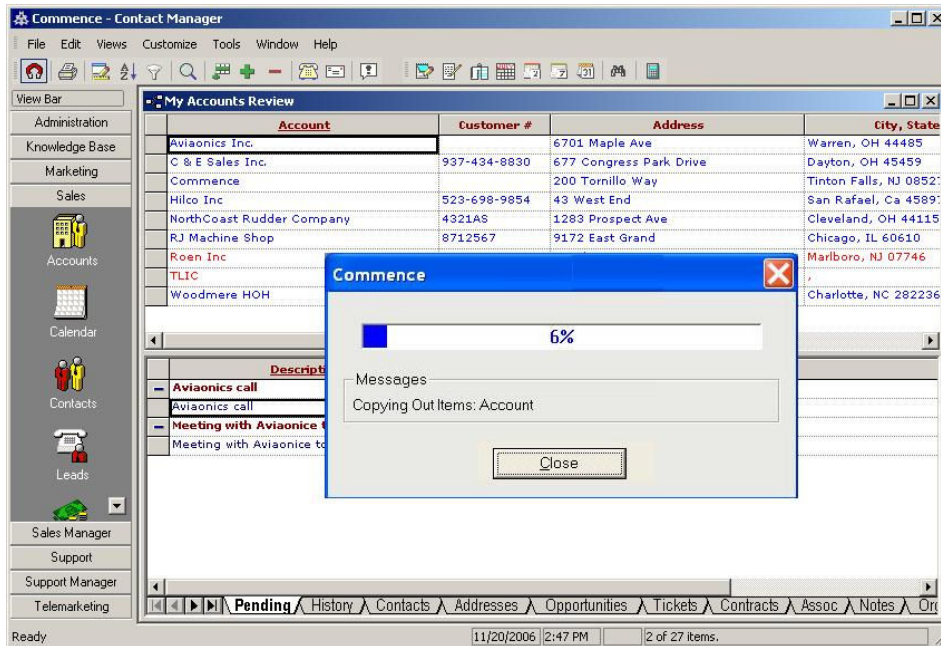

Automatic Updates:

Commence RM Version 3.5 now incorporates an auto update facility that automatically checks for new updates of Commence and installs them for you on your desktop computer. This allows for the fast efficient implementation of future updates for both large and small workgroups and will be a welcome addition for Commence administrators.

Workgroup Synchronization:

There is no doubt that the Commence Synchronization engine is the best in the industry, but we have made it even better. We have now added a status bar on the desktop that will illustrate the actual synchronization process and enable you to know when it is complete. This provides the end user with the comfort of knowing that they are working with the most up to date data.

FTP Synchronization:

The Internet is never perfect and connectivity via FTP synchronization can be temporarily lost for numerous reasons. Commence RM Version 3.5 now incorporates an automatic retry process if the initial connection is not successful. This makes the synchronization process more reliable while reducing the administrative burden for the Commence administrator. If after several attempts a connection is not made, an error message will appear indicating this and suggesting that you try again later.

Synchronization Report:

The Workgroup Expert feature has been enhanced to provide an easy to read formatted report that highlights the synchronization process, allowing you to quickly determine if specific users are up to date or behind with data synchronization. This allows the database administrator to periodically review the report and take appropriate action when required.

Multi-View Enhancements:

Everyone enjoys working with Multi-Views as they allow you to quickly access vital customer and contact information, and now they are even easier to use. RM Version 3.5 ensures that users can clearly identify the active window and Commence item that they are working with when using Commence features such as Word integration or Commence Agents.

The screenshot shows a window titled "All Accounts Review" with a table of accounts. The table has columns for Account, Address, City, State Zip, and Phone #. The last record, "Concorde Aviation Ltd", is highlighted in blue. A yellow arrow points to this record with the text "Last record selected in primary view". Below the table is a secondary view with columns for Primary, Contact, Title, Role, and Phone. The "Contact" field is highlighted in black, and a yellow arrow points to it with the text "Current record in secondary view".
